
M. William

HI

Hiſtorie, of

Enter Kent, Gloſter,

Kent.

I Thought the King had bany then Cornwell.

Gloſt. It did allwaies diuiſion of the kingdo the Dukes he values moſt, for eq rioſitie in neither, can make choi

Kent. Is not this your ſonne m Gloſt. His breeding ſir hath be ten bluſht to acknowledge him, t

Kent. I cannot conceiue you.

Gloſt. Sir, this young fellowes grew round wombed, and had in ere ſhe had a huſband for her bed

Kent. I cannot wiſh the fault proper.

Gloſt. But I haue ſir a ſonne b der then this, who yet is no deere knaue came ſomething ſawcely ſent for, yet was his mother fai makeing; & the whoreſon muſt b this noble gentleman Edmund?

WILLIAM SHAKESPEARE King Lear (STC 22292) LONDON, 1608 THE BRITISH LIBRARY (C.34.k.17)